

FACULTY OF ARTS

RELIGION & CULTURE

---

The study of religion focuses on the human search for meaning and purpose in life.

---

If you want to understand where the search for meaning and purpose has taken some of the world's people, consider pursuing religious studies. Religion & Culture at The University of Winnipeg will familiarize you with the quest for meaning and purpose as it is expressed in stories, rituals, codes of conduct, canonical texts, and cultural values.

ranges from traditional Western religions like Judaism and Christianity, to local Indigenous traditions, Islam, and Asian traditions (Hinduism, Buddhism, Daoism, and Confucianism).

---

SAMPLE CAREERS

If you are interested in fields where human interaction and/or multiculturalism are significant factors, such as education, mediation services, social work, employee relations, immigration services, international development, and certain branches of law, you will benefit greatly from courses in Religion & Culture.

SAMPLE COURSES

Exploring Religion: the World's Religions is a first-year course that explores the ways religion is understood in different cultures through a survey of the major world religious traditions. The teachings of individual traditions, how these teachings developed over time, and differences in interpretation will be examined against the background of the culture that produced them.

Introduction to Indigenous Spirituality is a 2000-level course that provides an introduction to the plurality of Indigenous traditions in North America, and familiarizes students with the diversity, complexity and vitality of these traditions. Indigenous and Christian Encounter is also a 2000-level course. It explores the encounter between Christianity and the traditional religions of the Indigenous peoples of Canada and the United States from first contact to the present.

Religion and Popular Culture, a second-year course, considers the place of religion in North American popular culture. It explores how elements of popular culture (radio, television, music, film, video, and fashion) influence the ways many people conceive of religion and its role in their lives.

MORE SAMPLE COURSES

Exploring Religion: the Bible
Science, Atheism, Skepticism and Religion
Contemporary Jewish Life
Contemporary Islam

Women in Asian Religions
Religions of India
Chinese Religions
Indigenous Sacred Narratives

SAMPLE FIRST YEAR

One of:

REL-1002(3) Exploring Religion: the World's Religions plus one 2000-level course in Religion and Culture OR

REL-1003(6) Exploring Religion: the Bible

Plus:

RHET-1101(3) Academic Writing: Humanities or any other section of Academic Writing (if required)
21-24 credit hours Electives, depending on interest

NOTE: This sample first year is representative of the courses you may take. For many of our programs, you may choose another set of courses and still be well on your way to a degree. Also, for most programs you do not have to take 30 credit hours (five full courses) in your first year.

---

“The Religion and Culture program has exposed me to diverse material and helps me to feel prepared to work or study in a variety of fields.”

Annie McBay, BA